Maintaining an organized, tidy and clean Store / Warehouse is critical to any business operation where needed items must be available in necessary quantities and at the time when needed. This means: same items at same place always and with necessary visual control about its address and quantity. This also means strict adherence to many basic regulations for proper stacking, following First-In-First Out principle, promptly recognizing unnecessary items and their disposal, protecting materials from deterioration due to dust, dirt and any other environmental effects, not leaving materials directly on ground, dealing with excess stocks and non-moving items intelligently and so on. Without doubt, an organized, clean and tidy warehouse is a must and a dream for any organization.
